

Shamanic IFS Healing Circle

~healing disconnect from Nature, Spirit, & community~

January 20 - February 24, 2026

6-week series with Sandy Phoenix

Enter a sacred healing circle where all your parts are welcome, where you can open to the wisdom and compassion of your deepest essence, where you can be held by Nature, Spirit, and community.

We heal best when we heal together - with Nature, with Spirit, with community. That is the antidote for our cultural disconnect and dissociation. When we open ourselves deeply in sacred healing circles, magic happens, allowing unexpected releases and gifts, connections and revelations. We cannot do this alone. And we are not meant to.

These Healing Circles combine the power of Internal Family Systems (IFS) with the power of deep sacred group work. IFS is a compassionate model that helps us connect with the parts within us that need tending and develop a relationship with them that helps our whole system find more clarity, peace, joy, and love.

IFS aligns with and includes many shamanic perspectives and aspects of healing, including soul retrieval, clearing of ancestral and cultural burdens, energetic and spiritual release with help of the elements, and connection with your sacred essence. This experiential 6-week series will add further shamanic elements with shamanic drumming journeys and opening to guides and ancestors. It will also include guided meditations, parts mapping, and embodied group sculpting. The sculpting is a powerful process where a participant works directly with me with the group members supporting by stepping into the roles of the person's parts, bringing about more clarity of inner dynamics and more space for healing.

IFS is a relational model, building relationships with your inner parts. Doing this work in a group, witnessing and sharing with others, empowers each person's own work as well as building like-minded community. Group size will be limited to allow for sharing and questions.
